RFC 4271 Section: 9.1.2.2 states that a BGP `network` command only takes effect if the exact prefix and mask already exist in the router's routing table (RIB). Without this match, the prefix is silently ignored and not advertised, meaning `network` does not inject routes, it references existing ones.